

TWF and the Oxbridge Women's Network Present An Inspirational Evening with Una Galani, Asia Columnist for Reuters Breakingviews, on November 26, 2014

Una Galani will talk about:

- Oxford: an unexpected beginning and end
- Mastering financial views not general news
- Opinionated men and bolshie women

ABOUT THE SPEAKER:

Una Galani is an Asia columnist for Reuters Breakingviews, based in Hong Kong. She has almost a decade of experience working across developed, emerging and frontier markets. She spent three years in Dubai covering the region's economies in the immediate aftermath of the Arab Spring. Previously, Una wrote on European business from London. She was commended as a Young Financial Journalist at the Harold Wincott Awards for 2009 after joining Breakingviews in 2006. Una read English Language and Literature at the University of Oxford.

Reuters Breakingviews is Reuters' brand for agenda-setting financial commentary.

DATE: Wednesday, November 26, 2014
TIME: Doors open 6.30p.m. | Talk from 6.45p.m. - 8.30p.m.
Light refreshments will be provided, compliments of Linklaters
VENUE: Linklaters, 10/F, Alexandra House, Chater Road, Central
TICKETS: HK$200 per person
Tickets must be purchased prior to the event
RSVP: Places are limited. Please CLICK HERE to register and pay

Like all OWN initiatives, this talk is open to all Oxford and Cambridge alumni - male and female, as well as to anyone else interested in hearing from inspiring speakers on a broad range of topics.

All proceeds from the event will go towards The Women's Foundation's Scholarship Fund to send deserving Hong Kong students to pursue the MPhil in Gender Studies at Cambridge University.

For further enquiries, please contact Amy Russell at +852-2581-1873 or amy.russell@twfhk.org

9A Chun Wo Commercial Centre, 23-29 Wing Wo Street, Sheung Wan

E. info@twfhk.org | T. +852-2592-8265 | F. +852-2592-8264

You received this e-mail because you subscribed to The Women's Foundation database.
To unsubscribe, please click here.